Prepare, if you dare,
for a tale full of chills,
A story of pure Californian thrills.

A night filled with sights that are best left unseen.
You ready? You sure?
This was my Halloween.

The sight was horrific. It made my skin crawl.
These monsters were having their Halloween Ball!

And right in the middle, one monster loomed tall,
The hairiest, scariest monster of all.

ERIC JAMES is a children's book author, word tickler, and champion asparagus thrower. You can find him online at www.ericjames.co.uk. He lives in Bath, England, with his family.

MARINA LE RAY has had success both as a children's book illustrator and as a greeting card designer. She lives and works in Nantes, France.

A HALLOWEEN SCARE IN TEXAS

It's Halloween night, and creatures and critters from near and far are starting to gather outside the front door. And now here comes a whole army of monsters, on broomsticks, buses, and bikes, all clamoring in the darkness. What is it they want? Are they coming for you?

This humorous, creative story is the perfect Halloween adventure for children and parents to share.

Spanish Almond Crescent

Creating the Spanish Almond Crescent was the challenge of history. Figuring out how to create a pastry with old honey and yeast instead of butter, sugar, and traditional leavening based on its deep roots in the traditions and ethos of Spanish cuisine. During my research, I discovered the Alamo, a cream-filled pastry typical of the Catalan region. Finding a model for the pastry that was my first hurdle. Combining softness, almond milk, and black pepper into that pastry was my second challenge—one that ended with particularly delicious results.

ELECTION DAY CAKE

This recipe for a traditional Election Day cake comes from the second edition of Libby H. O'Connell's American Cookbook, the first cookbook written by an American, a historical event in itself.

ELECTION CAKE

Thirty quarts of flour, 10-pound butter, 14 pound sugar, 12 pound raisins, 3 doz eggs, one pint wine, one quart brandy, 4 ounces cinnamon, 4 ounces five grain wheat, 3 ounces ground allspice, wet flour with milk to the consistency of bread dough, adding one quart yeast, the next morning work the butter and sugar together for half an hour, which will render the cake much lighter and whiter; when it has risen light, work in every other ingredient except the plums, which work in when going into the oven.
