Max the Brave just needs to find out what a mouse looks like...

and then he will chase it.

Maybe Mouse is in there.

Max bravely explores the can.
"Mouse? Are you in there?"

Hmmm, Mouse isn't here.

Oh, hello...

"We are not Mouse. We are birds," say the birds.

"Excuse me, please, but are you Mouse?"

"But we did just see Mouse scoot by."

Hi! My name is Larry. Welcome to my book.
There's only one rule. DON'T push the button.

Seriously. Don't even THINK about it.

It does look pretty nice though.
I wonder what would happen if we pushed it...

Now
Available as a
PADDED
BOARD BOOK!

Uh oh.

DON'T PUSH THE BUTTON!

Bill Cotter

Larry is a lovable monster (if a bit too curious) and the star of this hilarious interactive picture book debut

- Combines the popularity of monsters with the imaginative, engaging interactivity of Press Here
- A great read-aloud that kids will go back to time and again
- Author/illustrator teaches art to young kids in NYC; his work has appeared in Rolling Stone and other national publications

There's only one rule in Larry's book: don't push the button. (Seriously, don't even think about it!)

Even if it does look kinda nice, you must never push the button. Who knows what would happen?

Okay, quick. No one is looking...push the button.

Uh, oh.

BILL COTTER is an artist who lives in Brooklyn, NY. Bill spends his time teaching art and music to children, playing live music around the city, and perfecting his ping pong skills. Visit his portfolio at www.writershouseart.com/bill-cotter.

Isobel is on a quest to create the perfect film in bustling WWI-era Hollywood

- J.B. Cheaney has won numerous state and regional awards for her children's books
- Author's last book, Somebody on This Bus Is Going to be Famous, was a Junior Library Guild Selection

When Isobel is dragged on an extended vacation to Hollywood, she anticipates nothing but homesickness—especially with her father fighting on World War I's battlefield. But that's before she meets Ranger, her fast-talking, movie-obsessed cousin. Ranger ropes Isobel and her sister Sylvie into helping him create the perfect film. But their adventures come to a screeching halt when the girls' father returns home with a serious injury. While Isobel and Sylvie struggle with their grief, Ranger uses the real-life tragedy as inspiration for his epic film, which might be just the thing to help the family heal.

A YEAR IN THE LIFE OF A COMPLETE AND TOTAL GENIUS

Arthur Bean writes through life's ups and downs in this humorous and heartfelt tale ► Told through emails, writing assignments, and journal entries—perfect for even the most reluctant readers!

► Fans of such memorable characters as Kyle Keeley and Adrian Mole will love Arthur Bean

Arthur believes that he is destined to become a famously rich novelist. The first step in his journey to literary greatness will be winning the school writing contest, which will also (hopefully) distract him from the untimely death of his mother. Unfortunately, Arthur can't come up with a good story, unlike his writing partner Kennedy, who he's sure will ditch her popular boyfriend and fall in love with him sometime soon. Even Robbie, Arthur's nemesis, has an idea! As the competition draws closer, and as his father drifts further and further away, how far with Arthur go to win?

STACEY MATSON has worked in a theatre program and written theatre pieces for the Glenbow Museum and for the All-Nations Theatre in Calgary. She earned her Master of Arts in Children's Literature at the University of British Columbia. A debut novelist, Stacey lives in Vancouver, BC. Visit Stacey at staceymatson.com.

THE READERS OF BROKEN WHEEL RECOMMEND

Katarina Bivald

“Read this and smile!”

—Nancy Simpson-Brice, Book Vault (Oskaloosa, IA)

KATARINA BIVALD lives outside of Stockholm, Sweden. This is her first novel. She grew up working part-time in a bookshop.

Once you let a book into your life, the most unexpected things can happen...

- There is already buzz around the title, with the rights being sold in 23 countries, and it is already a bestseller in Sweden and France
- The literary focus and bookstore angle will appeal to readers and bibliophiles
- The charming premise combined with the perennially popular small-town setting and absorbing characters make this perfect for book clubs

Broken Wheel, Iowa, has never seen anyone like Sara, who traveled all the way from Sweden just to meet her pen pal, Amy. When she arrives, however, she finds that Amy's funeral has just ended. Luckily, the townspeople are happy to look after their bewildered tourist—even if they don't understand her peculiar need for books. Marooned in a farm town that's almost beyond repair, Sara starts a bookstore in honor of her friend's memory. All she wants is to share the books she loves with the citizens of Broken Wheel and to convince them that reading is one of the great joys of life. But she makes some unconventional choices that could force a lot of secrets into the open and change things for everyone in town. Reminiscent of The Guernsey Literary and Potato Peel Pie Society, this is a warm, witty book about friendship, stories, and love.

HANGING MARY

Susan Higginbotham

Meet Mary Surratt, the woman who could have saved Lincoln. Find out what stopped her in this vivid reimagining of Lincoln's assassination.

- ▶ Susan Higginbotham is a continually popular author and has sold over 109,000 copies of her historical novels
- ▶ Recent novels about the Civil War era, such as Mrs. Lincoln's Dressmaker, My Name Is Mary Sutter, and The Secrets of Mary Bowser, have performed well

In 1864 Washington, one has to be careful with talk of secession. Better to speak only when in the company of the trustworthy, like Mrs. Mary Surratt. A widow who runs a small boardinghouse, Mary isn't half as committed to the cause as her son, Johnny. If he's not escorting veiled spies, he's inviting home men like John Wilkes Booth, the actor who is even more charming in person than he is on the stage. But when President Lincoln is killed, the question of what Mary knew becomes more important than anything else.

Based on the true history of Mary Surratt, Hanging Mary reveals the untold story of those on the other side of the assassin's gun.

SUSAN HIGGINBOTHAM is the author of five historical novels. The Traitor's Wife, her first novel, is the winner of ForeWord Magazine's 2005 Silver Award for historical fiction and is a Gold Medalist in the 2008 Independent Publisher Book Awards for historical/military fiction. Higginbotham has worked as an editor and an attorney and lives in North Carolina with her family.

A COUNTRY BETWEEN

A beautiful and inspiring memoir about finding love and redefining home in a war zone

- ▶ Strong follow-up to her acclaimed memoir The Bread of Angels (Doubleday 2010)
- ▶ Eat, Pray, Love meets Operating Instructions in this uplifting story of love and the pursuit of dreams in the Middle East

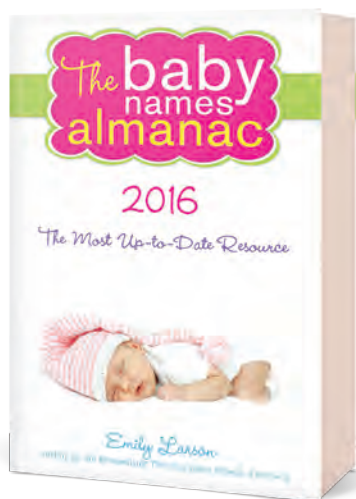

In this gripping and gorgeously lyrical memoir of marriage and motherhood, Stephanie, a girl from Texas, and Frederic, a former French monk, set out to find a home in the most unlikely of places: Nablus Road, where the fractious sides of Palestinian and Israeli Jerusalem crash together. As they struggle with raising their sons in a neighborhood where violence erupts regularly, Frederic embarks on a spiritual journey that forces the family to redefine their lives, their love, and the meaning of what they call home. A Country Between is a refreshingly honest, inspirational memoir that shows how love can enter our lives even when we seem irreparably broken and help us feel whole.

STEPHANIE SALDAÑA received a B.A. from Middlebury College and has won several awards for her poetry. She lives in Jerusalem with her husband and two sons and teaches at the Honors College for Liberal Arts and Sciences, a partnership of Bard College and Al-Quds University.

WHY SEX SELLS

Laying Bare the Complicated Relationship Between Business and Pleasure

Ross Benes

Freakonomics* meets Bonk in this provocative exploration of how sex—and our complicated relationship with it—impacts our lives, economy, jobs, and even politics

- ▶ Smart narratives on the role of sex in our lives, like Bonk and Sex at Dawn, are perennially popular
- ▶ Author's surprising revelations will garner strong media interest
- ▶ Author is a freelance journalist who has worked for publications such as Deadspin and Esquire

There's a reason sex sells: it's always on our minds. But most of us don't realize the extraordinary ways it influences our lives and our economy outside the bedroom. With hilarious wit and sharp insights, Why Sex Sells draws on history, psychology and cultural research to reveal just how much sex shapes our society. Blending anecdotes (discover the real origins of corn flakes and Viagra!) with compelling questions (Why are our most successful leaders also the friskiest? How could building a gay neighborhood save Detroit from economic ruin?), this fascinating book shows that by understanding the economic influence of sex, we can improve our everyday decisions and actions.

ROSS BENES is a journalist at Deadspin. Prior to joining Deadspin, he worked for Esquire, where he conducted research for the sex column and produced other articles on pop culture, sports, and sex. Prior to Esquire, Benes worked for Crain's Detroit Business. He has also been published in Slate, Salon, The Billfold, Business Insider, the Huffington Post, Nerve.com, Out Magazine, and others. He lives in New York City.

PIECES OF MY MOTHER

Now in paperback!
From the events coordinator of San Francisco's acclaimed Book Passage comes a provocative memoir.

► A May Indie Next Pick with terrific advance blurbs from bestselling authors Will Schwalbe, Kelly Corrigan, Hope Edelman, and many more

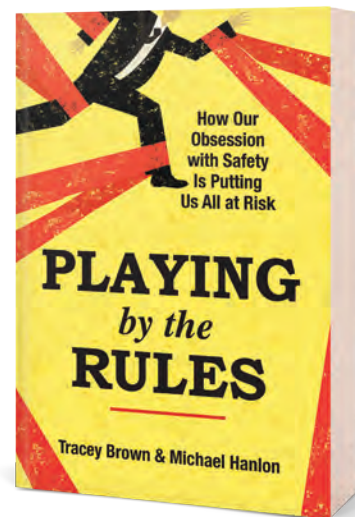

One summer, Melissa Cistaro's mother drove off without a word. Devastated, she and her brothers were left to pick up the pieces, wondering why their mother abandoned them. Decades later, Melissa finds herself at her dying mother's side, with just days to find out what happened that summer and confront the fear she could do the same to her own children. She never expects to stumble on a cache of letters her mother wrote but never sent, which could hold the answers she seeks. Haunting yet ultimately uplifting, Pieces of My Mother reveals how our parents' choices impact ours and how we can survive those to forge our own paths.

MELISSA CISTARO is the events coordinator at Book Passage, the legendary San Francisco Bay Area independent bookstore. A writer and mother, she has been published in numerous literary journals, as well as in two anthologies alongside Anne Lamott, Jane Smiley, and others. She lives in San Francisco.

A note from Mac...

Dear Booksellers, Librarians, and fellow booklovers,

I started Successories in 1988 with the goal of creating beautiful wall décor to reinforce corporate values and personal goals. It worked and I'm proud to say we became the undisputed leader in this niche industry.

After selling Successories, I decided to launch Simple Truths, a publishing company focused on motivational and inspirational content. The company was based on a simple concept...less can truly be more. I had observed that some of the all-time bestselling business books were short and simple and addressed "simple truths." My vision was to publish short books with great content on topics I understood...topics like leadership, customer service, attitude, and teamwork. They aren't intended to be everything you need to know about a subject, but the most important things.

I'm pleased to say that in the last 9 years, Simple Truths has:

- Published over 100 books
- Sold over 7 million copies
- Acquired over 400,000 customers
- Had over 100 million people watch our 3-minute videos on the Internet
- Published some of the all-time bestselling business authors, which include Ken Blanchard, Brian Tracy, John Maxwell, Bob Nelson, and Stephen Covey.

Simple Truths was purchased by Sourcebooks about a year ago and together we made the decision to release some of our bestselling books to bookstores for the first time, in a new size and dust jacket format.

Please take a few seconds to review the 5 new titles that we'll release in the fall of 2015. And you can look forward to many more in 2016 and beyond.

All the best,

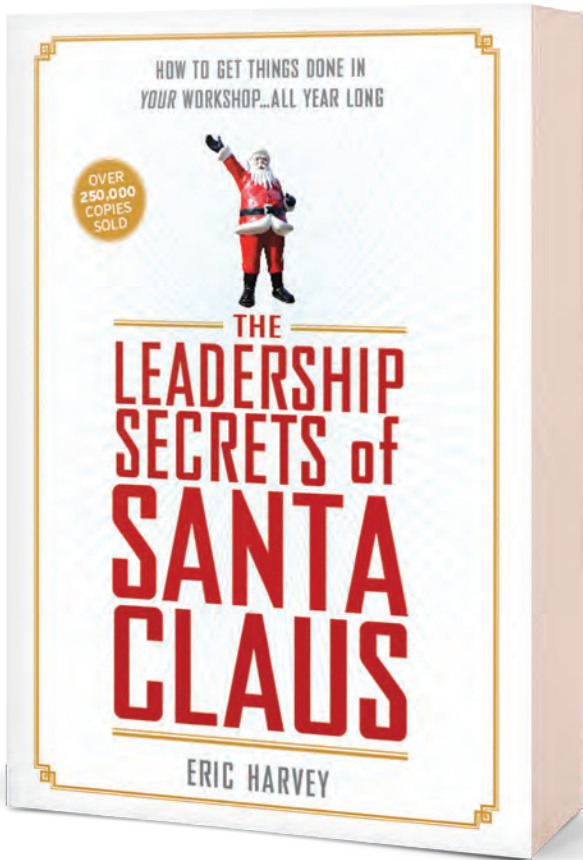

Mac Anderson
