Sandra Magsamen

Now Brings her Signature Style and Sentiment to Picture Books!

A Note from the Author

For many years, I've been writing and illustrating board and novelty books for young children. One of the first books I wrote was for my daughter, Hannah. With her arrival, I discovered a sense of love and connection I had never known before. I wanted my daughter to know that she had changed my life forever. And I hoped that parents and grandparents around the world would share my books with their own beloved children and grandchildren.

Joyfully, the little ones I've written for are growing up—and I'd like my books to grow up with them! I am proud to announce my partnership with Sourcebooks in creating picture books for children between the ages of 4 and 7. These books feature fun, rhyming verse, which helps children feel happy and successful as they learn to read. And my colorful art style speaks clearly to readers who are growing by leaps and bounds, constantly experiencing the world in new ways.

No matter how big my readers grow, I hope my books continue to make them feel encouraged, inspired, celebrated, and loved. This is a new and exciting journey for me, and I look forward to lots of amazing adventures together.

Thank you with all of my heart!

Sandra

SANDRA MAGSAMEN is a world-renowned author, artist, and designer whose products have touched millions of lives. She is the author of numerous bestselling books, with over two million copies sold to date. She is a featured columnist on Oprah.com and has been featured in magazines and on television. On average, four of her products are sold every minute nationwide. Her mission is to help people express themselves and to experience each day more fully.

IS IT CHRISTMAS YET?

Sandra Magsamen

Christmas is coming, and each day brings new wonders: lights on the Christmas tree, gingerbread cookies, Christmas carols, and so much more! And yet, more than anything else, it's love that makes the season so special. Love is the greatest gift of all!

I DON'T KNOW HOW THE STORY ENDS

Isobel is on a quest to create the perfect film in bustling WWI-era Hollywood—now in paperback!

- "Impressive on all fronts."
—Kirkus Reviews,
Starred Review
- J. B. Cheaney has won numerous state and regional awards for her children's books

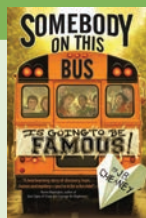

When Isobel is dragged on an extended vacation to Hollywood, she anticipates nothing but homesickness—especially with her father away at war. But that's before she meets Ranger, her fast-talking, movie-obsessed cousin.

Ranger ropes Isobel and her sister, Sylvie, into helping him create the perfect film, but their adventures come to a screeching halt when the girls' father returns home with a serious injury. While Isobel and Sylvie struggle with their grief, Ranger uses the real-life tragedy as inspiration for his epic film, which might be just the thing to help the family heal.

J. B. CHEANEY was born in Dallas, Texas, sometime in the last century. In school, her favorite subject was making up parts for herself in imaginary movies and plays. Fortunately, her second-favorite subject was history. All that daydreaming and history-loving paid off with five published novels, including Somebody on This Bus Is Going to Be Famous. She lives and daydreams in Missouri with her husband. Visit her at www.jbcheaney.com.

Lights. Camera. Action! Arthur Bean is back and headed for the big screen

- ▶ "One of the funniest characters to ever cross the pages of middle-grade literature."—Shelf Awareness on Arthur Bean
- ▶ A Year in the Life of a Complete and Total Genius was a 2015 Junior Library Guild selection, and a Winter 2015–2016 Kids' Indie Next Pick. The series explores relatable pre-teen situations like managing new relationships, romantic and otherwise.
- ▶ The movie theme introduces a whole new set of writing prompts and exercises—perfect for the school and library market

Arthur and Robbie have called a truce now that the writing contest and school play are over, but plans go astray when Arthur's new girlfriend, Anila, gets jealous of his friendship with cool-girl Kennedy. And then there's that little problem of the movie camera Arthur and Robbie borrowed to film their upcoming blockbuster movie...

As Arthur's life goes off the rails all over again, laughs for the reader are right on track. Emails, doodles, texts, newspaper articles, and AV Club rules (which Arthur and Robbie usually break) give the story the same engaging look as A Year in the Life of a Total and Complete Genius.

It's 1939, and the occupants of the Craven Home for Orphaned Children have been evacuated to Misselthwaite Hall, a fancy manor in the English countryside, to escape the Blitz. Away from everything she's ever known and trapped in imposing Misselthwaite, Emmie finds herself more miserable than ever.

But soon she starts discovering the secrets of the house—a boy who cries in the night, a diary written by a girl named Mary, and a garden. A very secret garden...

Murder, justice, and revenge were so not a part of the plan when Sera set out on her senior camping trip. After all, hiking through the woods is supposed to be safe and uneventful.

Then one morning, the group wakes up groggy, confused, and with words scrawled on their wrists: Damaged. Deceptive. Dangerous. Darling. Their supplies? Destroyed. Half their group? Gone. Their chaperone? Unconscious. Worst of all, they find four dolls acting out a murder—dolls dressed just like them.

Suddenly it's clear; they're being hunted. And with the only positive word on her wrist, Sera falls under suspicion...

And she's pretty sure Lizzie'll turn up at any moment, which means the time for speculation is now.

To prove she's right, Hawthorn hunts for evidence by immersing herself in Lizzie's life. Taking the job and boyfriend of a missing person might seem kind of dangerous, but it may just be the push Hawthorn needs to find her own place in the world.

BOY, 9, MISSING

With his father as the prime suspect in a boy's disappearance, Francis must confront his family's dark past—and his brother's unsolved murder

- ▶ Intriguing hook combines family drama with psychological suspense for a story that's impossible to put down
- ▶ Past and present dual narration keeps readers invested in Francis's and Sam's perspectives

Twenty-three years ago, at a small dinner party in a Chicago suburb, Francis Scroll's nine-year-old brother, Lucas, was found floating facedown in his parents' bathtub. THE OTHER EINSTEIN

A Novel

Marie Benedict

9 781492 637257

MARIE BENEDICT is a lawyer with more than ten years' experience as a litigator at two of the country's premier law firms and for Fortune 500 companies. She is a magna cum laude graduate of Boston College with a focus in history and art history and a cum laude graduate of the Boston University School of Law. She lives in Pittsburgh with her family.

A vivid and mesmerizing novel about the extraordinary woman who married and worked with one of the greatest scientists in history

- ▶ The Other Einstein has already been sold in six countries
- ▶ The Other Einstein, like Mrs. Poe and The Paris Wife, explores the strong women behind famous men; this story adds a twist, as Mitza was as intelligent as Einstein, if not more so
- ▶ The controversial role of Einstein's wife in his work adds an interesting talking point, and the author conducted rigorous research to add authenticity to the story

What secrets may have lurked in the shadows of Albert Einstein's fame? His first wife, Mileva "Mitza" Marić, was more than the devoted mother of their three children—she was also a brilliant physicist in her own right, and her contributions to the special theory of relativity have been hotly debated for more than a century.

In 1896, the extraordinarily gifted Mileva is the only woman studying physics at an elite school in Zürich. There, she falls for charismatic fellow student Albert Einstein, who promises to treat her as an equal in both love and science. But as Albert's fame grows, so too does Mileva's worry that her light will be lost in her husband's shadow forever.

Living the American Dream in France

Craig Carlson

CRAIG CARLSON is the owner and founder of Breakfast in America, the first American-style diner in Paris, which has been featured in the Lonely Planet and Frommer's Paris travel guides. He lives in Paris with his partner.

The heartwarming story of how one hungry American with a hankering for pancakes founded the first American-style diner in Paris

- ▶ Delightful mash-up of American and French culture that will appeal to readers of Bringing Up Bébé
- ▶ A strong restaurant/food angle in Paris memoirs has been proven hugely successful with books like David Lebovitz's The Sweet Life in Paris

Any expat knows the unique frustration of not being able to find American staples like peanut butter and pumpkin pie abroad. But thanks to Craig Carlson and his restaurant Breakfast in America, it's now possible to get hearty pancakes and creamy milk shakes in the heart of Paris, the city of croissants and crepes.

Craig was the last person anyone would expect to open a restaurant in Paris. For one, he's not French. He had no experience running any sort of business, and he had no idea how to navigate the notorious French bureaucracy. But what he did have was determination and a dream. Pancakes in Paris combines delightful tales of humor and hope with the satisfaction of an old-fashioned American breakfast.

A COUNTRY BETWEEN

Making a Home Where Both Sides of Jerusalem Collide

A beautiful and inspiring memoir about finding love and a home in a war zone

- Eat, Pray, Love meets Operating Instructions in this uplifting story of love and the pursuit of dreams in the Middle East
- A strong follow-up to Saldaña's acclaimed first memoir, The Bread of Angels

In this gripping and gorgeously lyrical memoir of marriage and motherhood, Stephanie Saldaña and her new husband, Frederic, set out to find a home in the most unlikely of places: Nablus Road, where the fractious sides of Palestinian and Israeli Jerusalem collide.

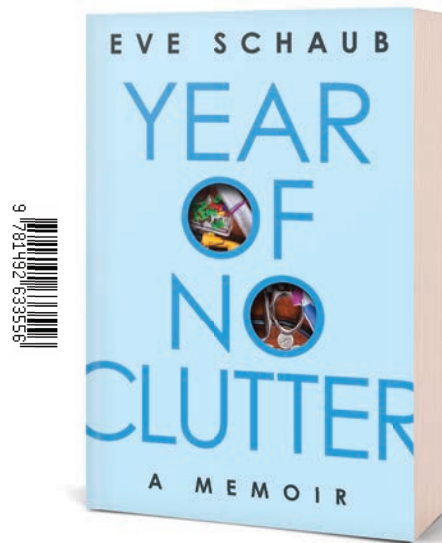

As the couple struggles with the decision to raise their sons in a neighborhood where violence is a daily occurrence, Frederic embarks on a spiritual journey that forces the family to redefine their lives, their love, and the place they call home. Refreshingly honest and inspirational, A Country Between shows us how love can pick up the broken pieces of our lives and make us feel whole.

STEPHANIE SALDAÑA received a B.A. from Middlebury College and has won several awards for her poetry. She lives in Jerusalem with her husband and children, and teaches at the Honors College for Liberal Arts and Sciences, a partnership of Bard College and Al-Quds University. She is the author of The Bread of Angels.

YEAR OF NO CLUTTER

A Memoir

Eve Schaub returns to tackle the issue of clutter and our complicated yearning to hold on to things

- Year of No Sugar, Schaub's first memoir, has sold more than 27,000 copies
- Hoarding and tidying are trending: The Life-Changing Magic of Tidying Up has sold more than one million copies

From Hoarders to The Life-Changing Magic of Tidying Up, the question of what to do with all of our stuff seems to be on everyone's mind.

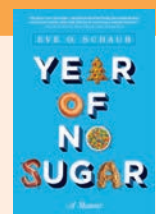

Eve Schaub's new memoir is the tale of how one woman organized an entire room in her house that had been overtaken by pointless items. It's also a deeply inspiring and frequently hilarious examination of why we keep stuff in the first place—and how to let it all go.

EVE O. SCHAUB graduated from Cornell University and Rochester Institute of Technology. She has written for Vermont Life and Vermont Magazine and has been a guest on WAMC and New York's NPR affiliate. She lives in Vermont with her family, where she continues to write and blog.

THINGS THAT MAKE YOU GO YUCK!: ODD COUPLES

It takes two to tango—but in the wild, two can do much crazier things than dance. In Things That Make You Go Yuck! Odd Couples, you'll find out about nature's strangest dating rituals, cooperative couples, and parasite pests. You'll explore symbiotic pairings like the plover bird, affectionately nicknamed the "crocodile dentist," and hybrid "franken-species" that seem like something out of a science fiction tale. Whether it's nature's slimiest organizations or the weirdest mutations, Things That Make You Go Yuck! celebrates survival of the fittest, grossest, craziest, and creepiest things in nature, proving once and for all that life in the wild is anything but ordinary.

Nature's grossest, creepiest, craziest creatures explored up close!

- ▶ Ventures beyond the biology classroom to showcase the gross, ghastly, and grand organisms that make up our world
- ▶ Introduces kids to complex scientific topics in a fun and accessible way
- ▶ Encourages scientific thinking and exploration of the natural world

THINGS THAT MAKE YOU GO YUCK!: EXTREME LIVING

Life isn't always easy, but some organisms take hard living to the extreme. Things That Make You Go Yuck! Extreme Living looks at organisms living in the weirdest of ways: swimming miles deep in the ocean, freezing on icy mountaintops, boiling in hot springs, or even floating in space. You'll also find critters bigger, smaller, softer, longer, and stretchier than you ever thought possible. Whether it's nature's slimiest organizations or the weirdest mutations, Things That Make You Go Yuck! celebrates survival of the fittest, grossest, craziest, and creepiest things in nature, proving once and for all that life in the wild is anything but ordinary.

TWISTED TRUE TALES FROM SCIENCE: INSANE INVENTORS

Nikola Tesla was crazy smart. He invented the idea for cell phones in 1893, discovered alternating current, and invented a death ray gun. Of course, he also talked to pigeons, ate only boiled food, and was scared of women who wore jewelry. He was an insane inventor. So was Henry Cavendish, who discovered hydrogen, calculated the density of the Earth, and was so scared of people that he had to write notes to communicate. Sir Isaac Newton discovered the laws of gravity, believed in magic, and thought he could make a potion to create gold. These stories may sound twisted, but they're all true tales from science!

Science stories so twisted it's hard to believe they're true!

- ▶ Appeals to kids with gross-but-true stories and facts that are stranger than fiction
- ▶ Includes science experiments and activities kids can do at home related to the stories
- ▶ Uses short, high-interest stories with fun facts, illustrations, and lots of photographs to tell "tales" about science

TWISTED TRUE TALES FROM SCIENCE: MEDICAL MAYHEM

Ground-up mummy bones, dried toads tied around the neck, and a morning breakfast of lice and pee. It sounds like a horror movie but those are actual medicines prescribed by early doctors. Medical students studied anatomy on bodies stolen from graves, and had to operate on people while they were awake. Learn about the medicines that came from poison and doctors who experimented on themselves and their families. It's a twisted tale of medical mayhem, but it's all true!

TWISTED TRUE TALES FROM SCIENCE: DISASTER DISCOVERIES

London was once covered in a fog so polluted that it killed 12,000 people. The Aleppo earthquake killed 230,000 people, and a wall of water mysteriously wiped out the whole town of Burnam-on-the-Sea. All of these were catastrophic disasters, but they led to important discoveries in science. Learn about how the earth turned to liquid in New Zealand, and what happens when a tsunami meets a nuclear reactor. These stories may sound twisted and strange, but they are all true tales from science!

TWISTED TRUE TALES FROM SCIENCE: EXPLOSIVE EXPERIMENTS

Two thousand years ago Chinese scientists were looking for a medicine that would make them live forever. Instead, they blew up their lab and discovered gunpowder. Alfred Nobel blew up his laboratory twice before he discovered the formula for dynamite. Learn about the Apollo 13 and Challenger explosions, and the strange space explosions caused by top secret Starfish Prime. These stories may sound twisted, but they're all true tales from science!

After eight years in the Marines, Jacob Lord returns to Blessings, Georgia with no plans other than to hole up in his empty house and heal what's left of his soul. But with a charming next door neighbor and a town full of friendly people, keeping to himself will be easier said than done.

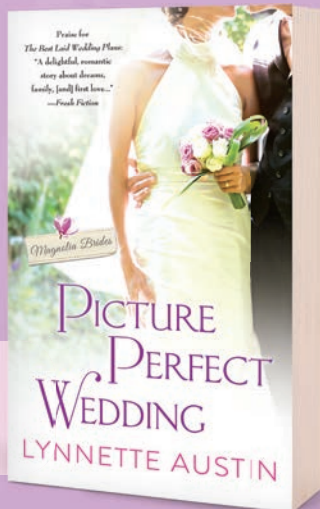

Laurel Payne understands all too well what Jacob is going through; she watched her late husband experience similar issues. She's in no hurry to jump into another relationship with a complicated war veteran, but their attraction is undeniable—and perhaps exactly the medicine they both need.

SHARON SALA has over ninety-five books in print and has published in five different genres. She is a seven-time RITA finalist, four-time Career Achievement winner from RT Book Reviews, and five-time winner of the National Reader's Choice Award. Writing changed her life, her world, and her fate. She lives in Norman, Oklahoma.

Beck Elliot thought he'd never again see the woman who broke his heart, but when Tansy Calhoun moves back to Misty Bottoms to open a shop, she's impossible to avoid...and so are his old feelings.

Newly divorced single mother Tansy has gone from a 4,500-square-foot home to a few suitcases, and she doesn't regret a thing. She's ready to start a new life and try her hand at a new business. The only fly in the ointment is her ex-fiancé, Beck, and the love she thought she'd put behind her. As she begins her new life, Tansy realizes she needs Beck's help, but is it possible she wants more?

LYNNETTE AUSTIN gave up the classroom to write full time. An author of eight novels, she has been a finalist in RWA's Golden Heart Contest, PASIC's Book of Your Heart Contest, and Georgia Romance Writers' Maggie Contest.
