Lily Jacobs is an author and artist living in San Francisco. Easter is her favorite holiday.

He can't fetch.
And he's not very snuggly.

But Oscar Is the Perfect Pet
for Izzy!

"My dog can play Frisbee," Sam said.

So I tried teaching Oscar some tricks:

"Sit!"

"Shake!"

"Scuttle me skippers!"

But Oscar wouldn't fetch a ball or the paper.
(He brought back other things.)

He did have one really good trick...

And that's how the City Pool got the best lifeguard ever.

LIFE GUARD
ON DUTY

And that's how I finally learned to swim.
There is one more thing I learned octopuses are really good at...

IZZY & OSCAR

Allison Estes & Dan Stark

ALLISON ESTES has written fifteen books for young readers. She teaches writing through the New York Writers Workshop, the JCC in Manhattan, the New York Public Library, and the Yoknapatawpha Arts Council in Oxford, MS.

DAN STARK practiced law for twenty-seven years before beginning his career as a writer. He lives in New Jersey and is the author of Silence of the Bunnies and Gelding Goliath.

TRACY DOCKRAY has illustrated numerous picture books, as well as the latest editions of the Ramona book covers by Beverly Cleary. Her most recent book, The Lost and Found Pony, won the Moonbeam Award. Visit www.tracydockray.com.

Dog, cat, or...squiggly octopus? The choice is easy for Izzy!

- From an acclaimed author/illustrator team with a hilarious premise that weaves in a subtle message of love and acceptance
- Funny and unusual pets are classic picture book themes
- Includes fun "Octofacts" in the backmatter for curious readers

Pretend pirate captain Izzy is looking for a pet when an adventurous little octopus squiggles into town. Oscar isn't exactly warm and fuzzy, but Izzy decides to keep him anyway. And while he's not very good at going for walks or playing fetch (although he is amazing at hide and seek), he's just right for Izzy.

Young readers will be tickled by Izzy's attempts to teach Oscar to behave like a dog, a parrot, a pony—and gratified by Izzy's realization that in the end we love others for who they are, not who we want them to be.

"Dockray's watercolors adeptly capture the exuberance of childhood."

as the sea at noon.
as bluejays

Blue
as bachelor buttons

Blue
as the sky itself.

A Dog

I am alone.
Someone is raking leaves outside

and there is one yellow leaf

Suddenly a wet nose

Autumn

Now the summer is grown old the light long summer

Leaves change
and the garden is gold

DEAR OPL

Opal can dish out advice like a pro, but when it comes to helping herself, she's eating her words

- Body image is an under-served issue in middle grade fiction, and Sackier's fresh voice tackles the issue with a relatable heroine
- Perfect for fans of the Winnie Years series by Lauren Myracle

My name is Opal, but I don't spell it that way. I figure if Mom wants me to lose weight, maybe she'll perk up if I drop the a and shrink my name twenty-five percent.

Eighth-grade Opal is tired of her mom's ridiculous diets, the new "healthy food" at school, and jeans that won't fit. So she starts a blog to help cope with her insecurities. But the last thing she expects is its sudden popularity, and she soon finds herself replying to fan letters and giving advice. Will Opal finally figure out what she's truly hungering for? Or will she continue to ignore her own advice?

SHELLEY SACKIER is a freelance writer, musician, and weekly blogger at Peak Perspective, which has just received its second WordPress.com Editors' Pick. She lives in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia.

DON'T VOTE FOR ME

It's election time, and band geek David is taking on the school's queen bee

- Perfect for readers who love Andrew Clements and Louis Sachar's school stories
- An exciting literary voice that expertly blends humor and serious subjects with a satisfying conclusion

It's class president election time, and no one is surprised when Veronica Pritchard-Pratt is the only name on the list. She's the most popular girl in school and wins every single year. David, for one, is sick of the tyranny—which he says. Out loud. To the whole sixth grade.

Publicly challenged by Veronica, David reluctantly enters the race. But as the campaign wages on, David learns this Goliath is more than just a social giant—and maybe deserves to win more than he does.

KRISTA VAN DOLZER is a stay-at-home mom by day and a children's author by bedtime. Though she's short like David, she plays the piano like Veronica and lives in Mesquite, Nevada. She is also the author of The Sound of Life and Everything.

BREATHE, ANNIE, BREATHE

Now in paperback! Annie is running from her past and from grief, but is she ready to move on?

► With a Booklist STARRED review, and praise from Publishers Weekly, Kirkus, and School Library Journal, this book will appeal to fans of Sarah Dessen, Jennifer Echols, and Jodi Picoult

Annie hates running. No matter how far she jogs, she can't escape the guilt that if she hadn't broken up with her boyfriend, Kyle, he might still be alive. So to honor his memory, she starts preparing for the marathon he intended to run.

But the training is even more grueling than Annie could have imagined. Despite her coaching, she's at war with her body, her mind—and her heart. Her running partner, Jeremiah, cheers her on, but Annie grows more conflicted with every mile. For Annie, opening up to love again may be even more of a challenge than crossing the finish line.

GABE JOHNSON TAKES OVER

Fat Boy vs. the Cheerleaders*, retitled and in paperback!

- Received strong reviews from School Library Journal, Booklist, Publishers Weekly, and Kirkus
- Herbach's "spot-on ear for teen-boy vernacular" (Booklist) makes this perfect for reluctant readers

Gabe is having a tough week. Normally the funny kid at the lunch table, he's on edge from trying to kick his soda addiction. So when news breaks that his beloved marching band camp has been cancelled due to lack of funding, he's furious. What makes him even madder? The school's vending machine money—which had previously been collected by the band—is now sponsoring the new cheer squad.

The war is ON. And Gabe is leading the charge. No one will be safe from the Geekers' odd brand of wrath: not the principal, the band teacher, the local newspaper, and certainly not the cheerleaders and their jock boyfriends. Get ready: Life at Minnetoka Lake Area High School is about to change. Gabe Johnson is taking over.

GEOFF HERBACH's books have been listed in the year's best by YALSA, the American Booksellers Association, and many state library associations. They've won the Cybils and the Minnesota Book Award. Geoff grew up a very nerdy jock in Southern Wisconsin and now teaches creative writing at Minnesota State University, Mankato.

POWERLESS

An ordinary girl in an extraordinary world. What's a teen without powers to do?

- ▶ X-Men meets Veronica Mars in this superpowered story that upends traditional notions of good and evil
- ▶ Our world with a twist: Powerless reads like a contemporary novel—but with stakes that are larger-than-life!

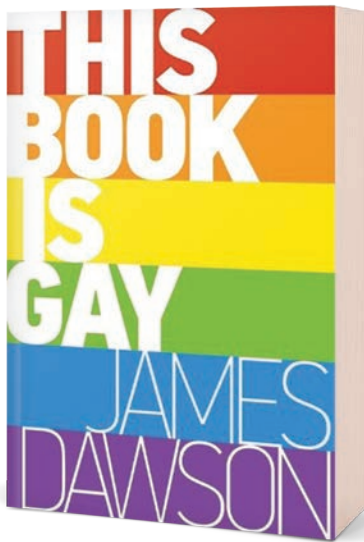

Kenna is tired of being “normal”. The only thing special about her is that she isn't special at all. Which is frustrating in a world of absolutes. Villains, like the one who killed her father, are bad. Heroes, like her mother and best friend, are good. And Kenna, unlike everyone else around her, is completely ordinary—which she hates.

She's secretly working on an experiment that will land her a place among the Heroes, but when a Villain saves her life during a break-in at her lab, Kenna discovers there's a whole lot of gray area when it comes to good and evil and who she can trust. After all...not all strength comes from superpowers.

In 1886, Mei Lien is washed up on Orcas Island, the lone survivor of a cruel purge of the Chinese from Seattle. She is determined to tell her heartbreaking story the only way she knows how: through needle and thread. A century later Inara Erickson, enlisting the help of a local professor, uncovers details in Mei Lien's delicate stitching that could have far-reaching repercussions for her own life. Should she bring shame to her family and risk everything by telling the truth, or tell no one and dishonor Mei Lien's memory? This brilliant debut is atmospheric and beautifully written, and serves as a poignant tale of the importance of our own stories.

KELLI ESTES lived in the deserts of eastern Washington State and Arizona before settling in the Seattle area. She's passionate about stories that help us see how the past shaped who we are today, and how we all have more in common than not. She lives in the Pacific Northwest with her family. This is her first novel.

THE SECRETS WE KEEP

Husband and wife may mean a life shared, but that doesn't mean a marriage can't have its secrets

► Discovering secrets about the person closest to you is a perennial theme in bestselling fiction with novels such as Gone Girl, The Husband's Secret, He's Gone, and The Affair

When Elizabeth's husband—a well-respected police officer in their quaint English village—dies in a tragic drowning accident, she's consumed by grief. But she finds solace in the fact that he died a hero, saving the life of a young woman who was also on the scene. Soon, however, the shocking truth of what really happened that night surfaces, forcing Elizabeth to question whether she ever really knew her husband at all.

The Secrets We Keep is an emotional debut novel about the secrets that are buried within marriages and the pain they can cause when they come to light.

STEPHANIE BUTLAND lives in Northumberland, England. She is a speaker and trains in thinking skills all over Europe, most recently in Kazakhstan. She has written two books on her experience with cancer, and she is an active blogger and fundraiser. The Secrets We Keep is her first novel.

FALLING FOR YOU

New York Times and USA Today bestselling author Jill Mansell delivers a Romeo and Juliet tale brimming with her trademark humor and heart

► Mansell's books are perfect for fans of Nora Roberts or Debbie Macomber

Good-bye, ugly duckling, hello, swan! Maddy Harvey is thrilled to shed the awkwardness of adolescence—crooked teeth, unattractive glasses, and unfortunate hair are all things of the past. She's turned herself into a confident young woman who's ready to live life to the fullest and fall in love. And when she runs into the dashing Kerr McKinnon on a starry summer night, she believes she's finally found her prince charming. Unfortunately, the path to true love never did run smooth, and Maddy soon discovers the decade-long feud between her family and the McKinnons. The fairy-tale romance that Maddy's always dreamed of is turning into a scene straight out of Romeo and Juliet, and if she's not careful, her happily ever after could turn into a Shakespearean tragedy.

JILL MANSELL is a UK bestselling author, with over 9 million copies sold. She has written nearly 20 romances with multi-generational appeal. She worked for many years at the Burden Neurological Hospital, Bristol, and now writes full-time. She lives with her partner and their children in Bristol, England.

KNIGHTS OF THE HAWK

The gripping finale to James Aitcheson's breathtaking trilogy about the Norman conquest of England

► Covers an era that draws interest among readers with titles like Bernard Cornwell's The Last Kingdom, and Ken Follett's The Pillars of the Earth, but is not over-published

1071: Five years after the brutal Battle of Hastings, only a desperate band of rebels stands between King William and absolute conquest. Tancred, a brave and ambitious knight, now finds his fame and fortune dwindling. When the frustrated King looks to Tancred to crush Hereward the Wake and the rebellion once and for all, it's a chance for Tancred to finally restore his reputation. But fulfilling his duty to the King may cost him everything he's worked for: Knights of the Hawk is a lightening-paced adventure that sets epic battles and evolving loyalties against the true price of glory.

JAMES AITCHESON was born in Wiltshire, England, in 1985 and studied history at Emmanuel College, Cambridge, where he developed a special interest in the medieval period. He is the author of Sworn Sword and The Splintered Kingdom.

THE MAGICIAN'S LIE

A January 2015 Indie Next Pick - Now in paperback

► Now in paperback! "A little taste of The Night Circus, and little salt of Water for Elephants...a wonderful combination of magic, vaudeville, and the drama of a secret life."—Annie Philbrick, Bank Square Books

The Amazing Arden is the most notorious female illusionist of her day, renowned for sawing a man in half. One night, with policeman Virgil Holt in the audience, she swaps her saw for a fire ax. A new trick or an all-too-real murder? When a dead body is discovered, the answer seems clear. But under Holt's interrogation, what Arden's story reveals is both unbelievable and spellbinding. Even handcuffed and alone, she is far from powerless. Over the course of one eerie night, the magician must pull off one final act—this time with her life at stake.

Raised in the Midwest, GREER MACALLISTER is a poet, short story writer, playwright, and novelist whose work has appeared in publications such as The North American Review, The Missouri Review, and The Messenger. THE LEMONCHOLY LIFE OF ANNIE ASTER

Scott Wilbanks

The physics-bending charm of The Time Traveler's Wife meets the curious mischief of The Eyre Affair in this debut novel

- The story has unconventional chronology, full of red herrings and dropped clues that keep the reader on their toes
- Debut novel from an author steeped in San Francisco who understands its lure and magic Annabelle Aster doesn't bow to convention—not even that of space and time—which makes the 1890s Kansas wheat field that has appeared in her modern-day San Francisco garden easy to accept. Even more exciting is Elsbeth, the truculent schoolmarm who sends Annie letters through the mysterious brass mailbox perched on the picket fence that now divides their two worlds. In this unconventional and enchanting tale, Annie and her new neighbor must solve the mystery of what connects them before one of them is convicted of a murder that has yet to happen...and somehow already did.

SCOTT WILBANKS grew up in San Francisco, graduated summa cum laude from The University of Oklahoma, and went on to garner several national titles in the sport of gymnastics. Scott's husband, Mike, is a New Zealander by birth, and the two split their time between the two countries while Scott is at work on his next stand-alone novel.

PIECES OF MY MOTHER

A writer and mother of two, she has been published in numerous literary journals, as well as in two anthologies alongside Anne Lamott, Jane Smiley, and others. She lives in San Francisco.

- Author is the Events Coordinator at Book Passage in San Francisco, and has strong industry connections

One summer, Melissa Cistaro's mother drove off without a word. Devastated, Melissa and her brothers were left to pick up the pieces, wondering why their mother abandoned them. Paul Cunningham is one of the only bachelors left on the SEAL wolf team, and he's less than thrilled to hear he's been volunteered for a local charity bachelor auction. Lori Greypaw has wanted to fix up her grandmother's cabin, and now her grandmother "buys" Paul to help with the renovation. Lori suspected the bachelor auction was a matchmaking scheme and now she's stuck up in the mountains watching the chiseled SEAL do all the heavy lifting. No hardship there. When a desperate fugitive comes out of the woods, Lori is really glad Paul is there...

USA Today bestselling author TERRY SPEAR has written over fifty paranormal and medieval Highland historical romances. In 2008, Heart of the Wolf was named a Publishers Weekly Best Book of the Year. A retired officer of the U.S. Army Reserves, Terry lives in Crawford, Texas.

Romantic Suspense

- ▶ Series combines all of the most popular elements of romantic suspense: band of brothers, heroes are former SEALs, kickass law enforcement heroines
- ▶ Bursting with the compulsively readable quality Julie Ann Walker is known for by tying each romantic suspense plot together with the dangerous search for a sunken galleon off the coast of Key West
- ▶ In addition to being a bestselling author, Julie Ann Walker has also received strong reviews, including 4 Starred Reviews from Publishers Weekly

Only two things could make Leo Anderson leave his hunt for the legendary sunken ship, La Santa Christina, and return to the world of weapons and warfare: a capsule of enriched uranium lost on the ocean floor, and a plea for assistance from the one woman he can't seem to forget—CIA Agent Olivia Mortier.

Now, racing against the clock and a deadly terrorist faction, Leo and Olivia must find the missing uranium, all while battling the nuclear desire burning between them. If they can survive, will their burgeoning love outlast the adrenaline rush?

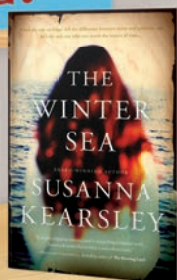

New York Times and USA Today bestselling author JULIE ANN WALKER is prone to spouting movie quotes and song lyrics and prefers impromptu travel over the scheduled kind. You can find her on her bicycle along the lakeshore or blasting away at her keyboard, trying to wrangle her imagination into submission. She lives in Chicago, Illinois.
