ONE MORE
MOOSE!

PAGE 2

How Many Moose are TOO MANY MOOSE?

They hummed mirthful music;
they made lemonade.
They modeled some masks
for a moose masquerade.

They chomped on some crumpets with marmalade jam.

They put on some swimsuits
and swimmingly swam.

"My moose are so marvelous!"
Martha declared.

Not much could match up when her moose was compared.

Martha is about to find out...

So Martha,
quite merrily,
ordered one more...

and one more
and one more
as she'd done before!

The mailman delivered
her new moose midday.

She signed with an M...
and they all marched away.

JUST LIKE ME

Nancy J. Cavanaugh

Camp might be just what Julia needs in this uplifting story from award-winning author Nancy J. Cavanaugh

- This Journal Belongs to Ratchet is currently on six state reading lists and was a Children's Literature Assembly Notable Children's Book in the Language Arts; Always, Abigail is a 2015–16 Texas Bluebonnet Award nominee
- Featuring three Chinese-American protagonists, this sweet camp story answers the call for diversity in middle grade fiction while telling a universal story of friendship, family, and self-discovery
- Just Like Me uses an accessible, alternative format that mixes traditional narrative and journal entries

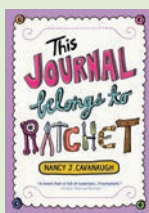

Who eats Cheetos with chopsticks?! Avery and Becca, my “Chinese Sisters,” that’s who. We’re not really sisters—we were just adopted from the same orphanage. And we’re nothing alike. They sing Chinese love songs on the bus to summer camp, and I pretend like I don’t know them.

To make everything worse, we have to journal about our time at camp so the adoption agency can do some kind of “where are they now” newsletter. I’ll tell you where I am: at Camp Little Big Woods in a cabin with five other girls who aren’t getting along, competing for a campout and losing (badly), wondering how I got here...and where I belong.

NANCY J. CAVANAUGH is the award-winning author of This Journal Belongs to Ratchet and Always, Abigail. She has a BS in education and an MA in curriculum and instruction and was an elementary school teacher for more than fifteen years as well as a Library Media Specialist. Discover Abigail's triumphant story of friendship told through heart-touching letters and lists—now in paperback!

- Always, Abigail is a 2015-2016 Texas Bluebonnet Award honoree
- A fresh spin on the epistolary novel, this story of friendship, self-discovery, and standing up to bullying is told through Abigail's letters, notes, and lists

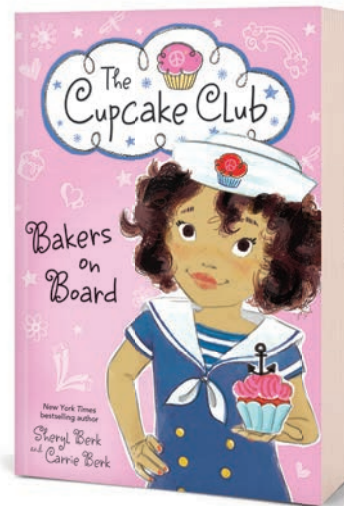

Abigail and her two best friends are poised for a life of pom-poms and popularity. But not only does Abigail end up in a different homeroom, she doesn't make the squad. Then everyone's least favorite teacher pairs Abigail with the school's biggest outcast, Gabby Marco, for a yearlong "Friendly Letter Assignment." Abigail can hardly believe her bad luck. As her so-called best friends and potential for popularity seems to be slipping away, Abigail has to choose between the little bit of fame she has left or being a true friend.

MY KIND OF CRAZY

Robin Reul

A promposal that (literally) goes up in flames sparks a friendship that might be just crazy enough to work

- ▶ Freaks and Geeks meets The Spectacular Now in this darkly funny and heartfelt novel
- ▶ A story of the friendships that carry you when you can't carry yourself
- ▶ Robin Reul writes an incredibly witty male narrator with authenticity, humor, and heart while exploring intense and timely issues

Hank Kirby can't catch a break. It's not that he means to screw things up all the time. It just happens. A lot. Case in point: his attempt to ask out a girl he likes literally goes up in flames when he spells "Prom" in sparklers on her lawn... and ends up nearly burning down her house.

Peyton Breedlove, a brooding loner and budding pyromaniac, witnesses the whole thing and blackmails Hank into an unusual friendship. But when Hank learns about the dark secrets Peyton is hiding, their relationship may turn out to be his biggest disaster yet.

ROBIN REUL has been writing stories since she was old enough to hold a pen. Though she grew up on movie sets and worked for years in the film and television industry, she ultimately decided to focus her attention on writing young adult novels. And unlike Hank, she does not know how to ride a bike. She lives in Los Angeles with her husband, son, and daughter. My Kind Of Crazy is her first novel. Find her at robinreul.blogspot.com.

THE A TO Z OF YOU AND ME

James Hannah

JAMES HANNAH divides his time between London and Shropshire, UK. He has a master's degree from the Beckett International Foundation at the University of Reading. The A to Z of You and Me is his first novel.

A striking tale of love, regret, and coming to terms with the mistakes that make us who we are

- ▶ A heartrending story perfect for readers of Me Before You and One Day, told with humor and grace
- ▶ Unusual alphabet-based structure adds an additional layer of depth
- ▶ Longlisted for the 2015 Desmond Elliott Prize for Best First Novel, Best First Novel, The A to Z of You and Me has also received praise from:
 - The Times: "absolutely bloody heartwrenching."
 - The Observer: "wonderfully quirky..."
 - The Guardian: "An affecting debut."

Ivo is a man who doesn't have much time. In the quiet hospital room, amid the beeping and coughing and cups of tea, he plays a game, a game to bring her back to him, if only for those last, fleeting days. Encouraged by a kind nurse, he lists parts of his body from A to Z, remembering a memory about each: the terrible teenage choices, friendships made and cracked, a love he'll never get back. Surprisingly beautiful and unflinchingly honest, The A to Z of You and Me shows us the raw unraveling of a life lived loud and hard.

"Spare, poignant, and with a quirky charm all of its own, it reminds us how kind people can be."

—Rachel Joyce, New York Times bestselling author of The Unlikely Pilgrimage of Harold Fry and The Love Song of Miss Queenie Hennessy

A ROBOT IN THE GARDEN

Deborah Install

DEBORAH INSTALL has been writing fiction since childhood, submitting her first book to a publisher at the age of eight. Undaunted by the early rejection, her love of writing persisted, leading to a number of jobs, including web journalism at university and her most recent role as copywriter at a design and marketing agency. She lives in Birmingham, UK, with her husband, toddler, and affectionate but imperious cat.

A broken man and his damaged robot build an unlikely friendship—with some assembly required

- Big international buzz has already begun, with rights sold in the UK, Italy, Spain, Germany, and Canada
- Explores the difficulty of connecting with the world with the same dexterity as The Rosie Project
- A quirky, heartwarming story starring an adorable humanlike robot

Ben's really great at failing at things—his job, taking the garbage out, and being a husband. But when he discovers a battered robot named Tang in his garden, he decides to get out of his couch-ridden comfort zone. Without a crucial bit of machinery, Tang will stop working, and Ben can't let that happen, especially since he's already alienated everyone else he cares about. Determined to achieve something for once in his life, Ben sets out to fix his new robot comrade and soon discovers that Tang might be just the thing to fix what's broken in Ben. Funny, touching, and charming, A Robot in the Garden explores what it is to be a man, a sentient being, and a friend.

“This is a most unusual and delightful book. Deborah Install has created a robot to remember.”

From con men to strongmen, from flea wranglers to lion tamers, Kitty's new friends quickly adopt her and vow to help find the missing Mrs. Hayward. BONJOUR KALE

A Memoir of Paris, Love, and Recipes

Kristen Beddard

A memoir of love, life, and recipes from the woman who brought kale to the City of Light

- ▶ Paris memoirs are consistently successful and Bonjour Kale is perfect for readers of Paris, My Sweet and We'll Always Have Paris

- ▶ Beddard was featured in the New York Times and she has connections to Whole Foods, National Kale Day, and multiple media outlets

DEAR BABY: I'M SORRY...

Apologies for Those Little Parenting Fails

Sarah Showfety

In addition to being a mom, toddler personal chef, chauffeur, Chief Laundry Expert, and Head Dishwasher in her home, SARAH SHOWFETY'S writing has appeared in the New York Post, the Huffington Post, and other publications. She is the creator of the popular blog Dear Baby XO. She lives in New Jersey.

The perfect commemoration of all the moments we'd apologize for—if they weren't so worth it

- ▶ Based on the author's popular blog, Dear Baby XO, which has been covered on The Doctors on ABC and Steve Harvey
- ▶ Contains humorous photos and snarky captions that capture the parenting fails every new mom and dad experiences
- ▶ A perfect gift for new parents

It all started when Sarah Showfety was nursing her infant daughter for what felt like the millionth time and thought, "I wish she'd hurry the hell up and finish so I can have a glass of wine."

It was a relief to laugh after living in a mostly humorless, post-baby bubble. She quickly felt the need to apologize to her baby and wondered what other subpar parenting moments might warrant an apology. It turned out the list was pretty long.

Through a collection of captioned photos, Dear Baby: I'm Sorry... perfectly describes the everyday indignities of parenting—and the poor kids that have to put up with us.

Virgil Elton has heard the wicked rumors, but something about Margerie calls to him. As he comes to know her, Virgil discovers a woman who is as intelligent as she is passionate. He'll stop at nothing to heal the damage the court has inflicted, even if it means falling himself...
