

You Need to Chill!

Juno Dawson, Laura Hughes

A delightful, endearing debut picture book by bestselling author and activist Juno Dawson in which a sister answers everyone's questions about where's her brother Bill.

Summary

When Bill can't be found at school one day, the imaginations of the other children run wild. Is he on vacation? Is he lost in the park? Has he been eaten by a shark?! It's up to Bill's sister to explain..."You need to chill! My brother Bill is now my sister Lily."

Juno Dawson' debut picture book is a witty and fun-filled story about family, identity, and acceptance. Bold, joyful and warm-hearted, its message of love and inclusivity shines through on every page. Laura Hughes' illustrations perfectly capture the positive theme of the story.

Love Is Love

Michael Genhart, Ken Min

A straight conversation about LGBTQ+ discrimination from a child's point of view

Summary

Love Is Love empowers young readers to celebrate the family they have—no matter how it's constructed.

A boy confides in a friend when he's teased for having two dads and for wearing a shirt that they deem is "gay." Kids tell him that they're not a real family, and he doesn't know how to respond. But our narrator realizes that his friend's family (with a mom and a dad) isn't all that different from his: they both have parents who love them, and they both love their parents. And it's love that makes a family.

Contributor Bio

DR. MICHAEL GENHART is a clinical psychologist specializing in working with children who have gay or lesbian parents; gay teens and coming out issues; same sex relationships; and LGBTQ parenting matters. He also visits and speaks at local elementary, middle, and high schools to engage students in conversations about LGBTQ issues.
