ABOUT THE BOOK

Jocelyn and Alex have always been best friends...until they aren't. Jocelyn's not sure what happened, but she hopes their annual joint-family vacation in the isolated Northwoods will be the perfect spot to rekindle their friendship.

But Alex still isn't herself when they get to the cabin, and Jocelyn reaches a breaking point during a rafting trip that goes horribly wrong. When the girls' inner tube tears, it leaves them stranded and alone on the banks of the Wolf River.

BEFORE THEY KNOW IT, THE TWO ARE HOPELESSLY LOST IN A NATIONAL FOREST.

Wearing swimsuits and water shoes and with only the contents of their wet bags, the girls face threats from biting blackflies to black bears, poison ivy to hypothermia. Both Jocelyn and Alex will have to use strengths they didn't know they had in their desperate trek home. But beyond battling the elements during the days and nights they spend lost in the wilderness, they'll have to overcome their fractured friendship—if they want to make it out of the woods alive.
