

PUP and DRAGON go on their latest adventure: BEHIND THE SCENES AT SOURCEBOOKS

HEY DRAGON! Did you know we have a whole team of people working on our adventures?

Not a what, a who. People.
Our team at Sourcebooks.

A WHAT?

Ok, now we're getting someplace.
THEY LOVE US!

A NOTE FROM OUR EDITOR, KAREN SHAPIRO a.k.a. THE AMBASSADOR OF ADVENTURE

Our first How to Catch picture book published 8 years ago, and it's been incredible to see how this series has fostered an early love of books and reading!

Moving to early graphic novels was a natural extension, to reach a new audience and bring two new characters to life—Pup and Dragon—best friends looking for adventures—who are silly, heartwarming, and laugh-out-loud funny!

A NOTE FOR OUR ART DIRECTOR AND MOM OF 9-YEAR-OLD, MAX, MARYN ARREGUÍN

Max wasn't always a voracious reader. He overcame a challenging speech delay that also affected his reading and writing ability. Because of this, I am mindful of how I design books to make sure they are accessible, clear, and loaded with fun! To hear the laughter and joy Pup and Dragon brings Max, along with an excitement to read, was a big win for me as a parent and art director.

★ "It's the funniest book ever. Pup and Dragon are always getting themselves tangled up in bad plans. But they keep trying.
I GIVE IT 5 STARS AND 17 BILLION LOLs!"

I like these creative people,
THEY MAKE US LOOK GOOD!
